

Course Title	International Criminal Law
Faculty	Faculty of Law and Business Studies Dr Lazar Vrkić
Study Programme	Security and Crime Science
Professor	Assistant professor Boriša Lečić		Contact (e-mail address)	borisalecic@gmail.com
Code		Course level	Graduate (MA)	ECTS credits	6
Description (max. 100 words)	Students acquire general and specific knowledge of international criminal law; basic principles, institutes and standards of international material and criminal procedure law. Students are introduced to international criminal tribunals, their characteristics and jurisdiction. Students acquire necessary knowledge and skills for correct application of international and national legislation in the field of international criminal law.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	Students are well equipped with the knowledge of sources, subject-matter, structures and functions of international criminal law. Students have acquired the knowledge of terms and categories of international criminal law, characteristics of international crimes, basic principles and phases of international criminal procedures, jurisdiction, gathering and analysing professional literature and legislation.
Semester	1		Maximum number of visiting students
Language	Serbian		Available for international students (YES or NO)	YES	