

Course Title	Theory of Security
Faculty	Faculty of Law and Business Studies Dr Lazar Vrkić
Study Programme	Security and Crime Science
Professor	Senior research associate Aleksandar Gajić		Contact (e-mail address)	romero@eunet.rs
Code		Course level	Graduate (MA)	ECTS credits	8
Description (max. 100 words)	The course is designed to introduce students to theoretical and practical knowledge of security which is the basis of any society dealing with the individual, groups, the state and the international community. Students are also introduced to the main security characteristics of the Cold War and Post-Cold War eras. It is necessary to enable students to recognise contemporary threats to security and mutual influence of certain challenges on the maintenance of international peace and threats to it.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	Students have acquired the knowledge of new organizational security systems on a global, regional and national level. Students are able to make conclusions about trends in international security and help the development of security plans of different subjects and at different levels.
Semester	1		Maximum number of visiting students
Language	Serbian		Available for international students (YES or NO)	YES	